Retailer Notes:

Once again, the big news has nothing to do with the month's release schedule.

It seems that with little fanfare a piece of legislation was passed into law in Washington, legislation that was meant to combat child pornography. The problem is that the law is very broadly written, and some companies (fearing the threatened consequences) have pulled anything that they think might cause them to become a target. The upshot is that shipments from the second largest publisher of adult animation came to a screeching halt, with a recall placed on one of their most recent releases. This action was, of course, done with no prior warning (or even explanation once the recall notice was sent). Late word arriving at the tRSi offices is that shipments have resumed on all but one title.

The ACLU is already preparing to fight this law. More on this as it develops.

On a brighter note, the second volume of Evangelion streets this month, as does the uncut first volume of Violence Jack. Central Park Media finishes their Battle Skipper in November, and is releasing another group of dubs from their back catalog (including Iria). Pioneer is following up their very successful Tenchi Muyo In Love (movie) with the first installments from the Tenchi Muyo television series this month, but there is no word on the Armitage III "movie". Current thinking is that it will not show up until next year. Finally, AnimEigo launches their Samurai Cinema line (Live Action) this month with two Hong Kong titles.

JEFF'S PICK(S) OF THE MONTH

Another tough month. I'd say that it's a tossup between the second volume of Evangelion and the first volume of the Tenchi Muyo TV series. They're both pretty cool. Honorable mention surely goes to the uncut Violence Jack ... it's really twisted (like all Go Nagai stuff is supposed to be)!
